Body found in search for missing teenager

Peter Hodges
Reporter | peter@viewnews.co.uk

THE East Devon community has been left in shock after the body of a Tipton St John teenager was found on Saturday following a four-day police search.

The body of 15-year-old Daniel Chambers was found in a field near Tipton St John at 11.35am on Saturday, December 16th.

Formal identification is yet to be carried out but Daniel's family has been informed.

Officers are carrying out enquiries to establish the circumstances of the death but it is not being treated as suspicious at this time.

Well wishers took to social media to offer condolences to Daniel's family and pay tribute to the teen.

One member of the public said: "My heart and thoughts are with Daniel's family and with all his friends.

"Such difficult times to deal with and all we can do is pray for all of them"

Yeovil Innovation Centre to be expanded

WORK to expand the Yeovil Innovation Centre (YIC) has commenced following funding from the Heart of the South West Local Enterprise Partnership (HotSW LEP).

South Somerset District Council (SSDC) have received £442,000 from a Growth Deal with HotSW LEP – which provide funds to LEPs for projects that benefit the local area and economy – that has enabled Phase Two development works to commence at the YIC site.

The YIC has been very successful to date and a number of enquiries for additional smaller office accommodation are regularly received.

Phase Two works will see the development of approximately 9,500sq feet of flexible office accommodation to enable more start-up and small businesses in the high-tech and innovation fields to establish, expand and benefit from working with similar businesses at the existing Yeovil Innovation Centre.

The new extension building will be built to a high standard with very modern and flexible accommodation offerings.

It will face Copse Road and link into the existing YIC building.

Work on site by Midas Construction commenced at the end of November and is scheduled to be completed before the end of summer 2018.

Councillor Jo Roundell Greene, Portfolio Holder for Economic Development and Deputy Leader of South Somerset District Council, said: "We are delighted to be working in partnership with the LEP on this priority economic development project.

"It has been a key objective for the council and I am pleased to see it coming to fruition, after much hard work and detailed planning.

"It will also be very interesting to see the new, innovative businesses that it will attract and support for the future."

Phase Two of the Yeovil Innovation Centre is partly funded by £442,000 from the Heart of the South West LEP's Growth Deal funding project: Unlocking Growth Fund, which allocates £5 million to fund the development of several employment and workspace sites and premises across the Heart of the South West area that support business growth.

The Heart of the South West LEP's total Growth Deal is worth £598m; including £239m from Government and £359m match funding.

Over the lifetime of the Growth Deal: 2015 - 2021;

HotSW LEP estimates the investment will create up to 22,000 new jobs and 11,000 new homes.

Steve Hindley CBE DL, chairman of the Heart of the South West Local Enterprise Partnership, said: "Yeovil Innovation Centre is one of the LEP's portfolio of Growth Deal Funded projects that are taking shape throughout the HotSW area of Devon, Plymouth, Somerset and Torbay to create the right conditions for businesses to grow.

"This new extension will add flexible office space for more businesses to start up and benefit from working in this innovative environment."

Michael Borkowski, Business Development Director for Midas Construction, part of the Midas Group, said: "We are so pleased to be part of the partnership that is developing this exciting new phase of the Yeovil Innovation Centre.

"Work is already under way on site and we are looking forward to delivering a facility which supports local businesses and the South Somerset Economy."

The YIC is an evolving business community aimed at ambitious organisations and entrepreneurs.

...while EDDC picks up award for innovation

EAST Devon District Council, in partnership with three other Devon local authorities, has won the 'Most Innovative Strategy' award from the Institute of Economic Development (IED).

The council teamed up with Exeter City, Mid Devon and Teignbridge councils to produce the Exeter and Heart of Devon (EHOD) Shared Economic Strategy, which defines the joint growth ambitions of four local authorities and their collective aims to increase competitiveness and improve productivity in the area.

The 2017-20 strategy was launched last year after 12 months of planning where each local authority took ownership of one of four common economic initiatives: strategic planning (East Devon); business support and transformation (Mid Devon); inward investment (Exeter City); and employment and skills (Teignbridge).

The focus on collaborative working is already delivering tangible outputs for the local authority areas beyond what could be achieved in isolation – and this collective approach aligns with the national push for joint council working.

Councillor Paul Diviani, Leader of East Devon District Council, which submitted the IED award nomination on behalf of the project partners, said: "We are delighted to receive this award for our EHOD Shared Economic Strategy which sets out our growth ambition, priorities and approach that we will take to enable the growth of our regional economy."

"Creating a sustainable high-performing economy at a time of comparative uncertainty is at the heart of our shared strategy and action priorities. We have established targets around increasing high-quality jobs, attracting and retaining investment, unlocking and enabling development as well as improving productivity, skills, qualifications and employability.

"Our strategy sets out a shared vision and framework to steer the economic interventions of the councils and partner organisations. We cannot create jobs and wealth in isolation, but we can create the right environment for businesses to ultimately grow and flourish."

The EHOD 'Most Innovative Strategy' award win was announced at the IED Annual Awards 2017, staged as part of the IED Annual Conference in London, last month.

IED Chair Bev Hurley said: "The EHOD Shared Economic Strategy was the outcome of a collaborative approach to growth and prosperity across four local authority areas who recognised the challenge of creating economic growth in a difficult economic environment."

"The approach was striking as an innovative piece of work because the area of activity of the partnership and type of work carried out was entirely in response to business and was different to what had gone before spatially and in terms of scope. Its disregard for political boundaries and building a partnership from the bottom up is a major challenge and can be seen as an exemplar for others facing similar situations."

Amnesty for tenants illegally sub-letting

EAST Devon council tenants illegally sub-letting their property will be given a month-long amnesty through January to hand back their keys to avoid prosecution.

Their landlord, East Devon District Council (EDDC), hopes the amnesty will make more homes available to "honest" people in need of affordable housing.

Tenants who illegally sublet their properties are breaking the law and, if convicted, face an unlimited fine or imprisonment of up to two years for committing fraud.

The amnesty, from January 2nd to January 31st, means that tenants who are carrying out the illegal activity can hand back their keys with no questions asked.

However, from February 1st, the council is warning tenancy cheats that they will actively seek them out and will prosecute.

Latest figures show that there are 723 households in East Devon with a high need waiting for affordable social housing.

The council suspects that some of its properties are being illegally sub-let by dishonest tenants who are profiting by charging a higher rent to a subtenant.

From February 1st, the council will start to target the cheats using a variety of data matching tools which use credit reference information.

Cllr Jill Elson, EDDC's portfolio holder for sustainable homes and communities, said: "The vast majority of our tenants are living in their homes legally and they have nothing to worry about.

However, nationally we are aware that tenants do sublet council houses and we want to make sure this isn't happening in East Devon.

"Our message is clear: if you are an illegal tenant (some-one who sublets their council property), then we are giving you a month's grace to hand back your keys and give up your tenancy and no further action will be taken. However, from February 1st, if you are found to be illegally occupying your home, you risk a criminal conviction, unlawful profit orders and, of course, the loss of your council house."

Cllr Pauline Stott, chairman of East Devon District Council's Housing Review Board, added: "The council is determined that its limited number of affordable homes are occupied legally by honest tenants.

"If you are committing tenancy fraud, this is your opportunity to do the right thing and hand back the key. When you return the key, no questions will be asked."

To find out how to hand back the key, call the 24-hour helpline number, which is 01395 571 657 or email handbackthekey@eastdevon.gov.uk

There is further information on the council's website at www.eastdevon.gov.uk

Armed police to be used in South West over festive period

ARMED police will help patrol key locations and events in Devon, Cornwall and Dorset over the festive period and the New Year.

Officers will be visibly carrying long-armed weapons and be supported by unarmed officers and the dog unit to offer further security and reassurance during this busy time of the year.

Head of Alliance Operations, Chief Superintendent Jim Nye, said: "I want to reassure the public there is no increase in the threat level, nor is this in reaction to any specific threat within Devon, Cornwall and Dorset.

"This decision is to help offer reassurance to the public, and to offer a highly-visible level of protection to our public.

"The festive period naturally leads to significant events and creates crowded places.

"These resources are now available to our commanders across the alliance area, and they will be used across locations at times, and during events where the local teams feel that this extra support could be beneficial.

"We have also made sure that our dog unit are available to help support our officers and to undertake checks of areas; during this busy time we can see people leaving bags unattended in public areas that could cause alarm.

"It is hoped that if this does happen, we have the ability to check these items are safe, quicker.

"Our message to the public is to go about their day as normal, enjoy the festive period and stay safe. If anyone sees anything suspicious then tell.

"You can approach these officers directly as they are here to protect and serve our communities, you can also contact us on 101 or 999 in a case of an emergency.

"You can also contact the National Counter Terrorism hotline on 0800 789 321."

Push to reduce plastic bottles

COMMUNITY minded businesses in Devon, such as cafes and shops, are being encouraged to join a growing movement to help the environment.

The concept is to simply reduce the number of plastic bottles being thrown away by inviting people to re-fill their water bottles with tap water for free.

A spokesperson for Devon County Council, who are promoting the initiative, said: "It's a win-win: good for the environment; good for people's health, to hydrate with water rather than sugary drinks; and good PR for the businesses and charities that open their doors to thirsty passers-by."

What began as a local campaign in Bude, now has attracted national appeal with a diverse range of businesses across UK towns and cities volunteering as Refill Stations.

Refill Devon, the county's campaign, began last year, and participants are steadily growing in numbers.

From cafes and restaurants to phone shops, garden centres and estate agents, the diversity of businesses taking part is broad as more outlets 'tap in'.

All the businesses need to do is display a round, blue 'Refill' sticker in their front window, and allow the public in to refill their plastic bottle.

There is also an app to support the campaign, to inform people of the location of participating businesses.

It's estimated that in the UK 800 plastic bottles per minute end up being disposed of as litter, and all too often make their way into our waterways and out to sea.

Devon County Council, South West Water and Beach Care, which is part of the Keep Britain Tidy campaign, are promoting and funding Refill Devon.

The council recently gave its commitment to support initiatives that aim to reduce use of single-use plastic bottles because of their damaging impact on the environment, specifically coastlines.

Councillor Andrea Davis, Devon County Council's Cabinet Member with responsibility for recycling, said: "It's a great campaign. We've been supporting Refill Devon for some time and I'm delighted by how welcomed it's been greeted by Devon businesses.

"So far we've got around 140 refill stations, but we're keen to see more, especially in areas where there are gaps.

"There are clear benefits for everyone, for the participating businesses as well as the public.

"And because it's free and so simple for participants to opt in, or opt out if it turns out not to be their thing, we're saying to businesses, just give it a go."

Beehive accolade highlights its family friendly attractions

HONITON'S community venue, The Beehive, is celebrating achieving a national accolade which highlights that it is 'Fantastic for Families'.

The Beehive has become an officially-registered 'Family Arts Standards' venue.

The Family Arts Campaign is a national collaborative led by the visual and performing arts sectors to increase levels of arts engagement by families and is funded by the Arts Council England.

The standards are designed as a benchmark for organisations providing an exceptional welcome to families when attending an arts event – covering key areas such as programming and promotion, consultation with families, and facilities.

The Beehive presents a range of events suitable for children and families throughout the year, including films, theatre performances, pantomimes and shows and hands-on events.

Partner organisations also run dance, creative arts and amateur theatre groups for children and young people of all ages.

The building is very accessible to families with free parking, baby changing and "changing places" facilities, easy access and storage for wheelchairs and children's buggies, high chairs and free tap water in the café, plus auditorium booster seats.

Katherin Hope, Deputy Operation Manager at The Beehive, said: "The Family Arts Standards has been an excellent process to go through.

"It has made us consider how we can improve our offer and communications to families and ensure that every visit is an enjoyable and rewarding experience."

Housing developers give boost to Operation Christmas Child appeal

A LOCAL homebuilder is helping to spread the festive joy this Christmas by collecting hundreds of shoe boxes to support this year's Operation Christmas Child.

Bovis Homes' Kings Reach development in Ottery St Mary encouraged staff, residents and new buyers to fill a shoe box with gifts to send to needy children around the world through the Samaritan's Purse annual collection.

Bovis' regional marketing manager, Stacey Banfield, said: "We were overwhelmed with the number of shoe boxes we received.

"We sent out emails and spoke to residents to let people know that the sales centre would be collecting them, and we're thrilled with the response we received.

"We have had such positive feedback, and people have really enjoyed putting the boxes together.

"It is such a worthwhile cause and it really is such a simple way of spreading festive cheer and brightening up a child's Christmas."

Bovis Homes' designated four sales centres across the South West acted as collection points for the boxes, as well as offering entry into a prize draw for every shoe box received with the chance to win a Christmas hamper.

Operation Christmas Child has been running since 1990, where shoe boxes filled with goodies have been sent to deprived youngsters across the world to ensure they get a gift at Christmas.

Bikers urged to sign up for road safety workshop

FIVE hundred motorcyclists have attended free biker workshops delivered by the Road Safety Team at Devon & Somerset Fire & Rescue Service since 2015.

Each workshop is split into three sessions comprising of road traffic collision scene management, first aid and the science of being seen.

The sessions are designed with bikers in mind and tailored to deliver vital information, plus lifesaving skills in what to do at the scene of any road traffic collision.

The last session also helps to explain how motorcyclists can be more visible on the roads and explains that there is a science behind why people may look but don't always see a motorcyclist.

A spokesperson for the fire and rescue service said: "The team provides some insight into simple skills whilst riding to decrease risk and prevent collisions.

"The workshops are a national initiative started by Kent Fire & Rescue Service, with the scheme being adopted by many fire services across the country including Scotland and Wales.

"In 2016 there were 54 fatal road traffic collisions in Devon and Somerset with another 654 casualties sustaining serious injuries.

"A total of 169 of those killed or sustaining life changing injuries from these collisions were motorcyclists (motorcyclists only make up about one per cent of road users)."

The three hour workshops provide vital information to motorcyclists in how to manage a collision scene along with the necessary information the emergency services need to send out resources to any incident.

They provide first aid skills in catastrophic bleeding, CPR and helmet removal.

Held at local Community Fire Stations across Devon and Somerset with each attendee receiving a free first aid kit, especially designed for motorcyclists.

The workshops are co-funded and delivered in partnership by the service's partner agencies from Devon County Council and Somerset County Council road safety teams.

Laura Pratt, Road Safety Manager for Devon & Somerset Fire & Rescue Service, said: "These free workshops are well attended, and the feedback to date has been really positive.

"It provides practical skills, knowledge, as well as enabling the fire service to help reduce collision risk and injury to this high risk group.

"The workshop helps to empower members of the public to intervene and provide life saving skills before the arrival of the emergency services, and gives them key understanding in the information required to keep themselves and others safe at any collision."

- The workshops are run throughout the year and start again in the spring of 2018.

The dates are on the Biker Down South West Facebook page and motorcyclists can apply for a free place via a link on these pages.

Young Farmers' Club festive bingo this week

THE Axminster Young Farmers Club Christmas bingo will be held on Thursday, December 21st at Cloakham Lawn, with doors opening at 7.30pm for eyes down at 8pm.

There will be cash prizes to win, a raffle and a bonus round.

Club secretary Emily Gay said: "Also, we are doing our annual charity Boxing Day dip at Seaton seafront.

"This year we are doing it in aid of two charities, Exeter Leukaemia Fund and Papworth Hospital Charity.

"We will be running in the sea just after 11am, just after the hunt has left."

Arson guilty plea

A FORMER Axminster resident has pleaded guilty to arson intending to destroy property, following a blaze on October 15th at The Recycling Shop in Market Square.

Darren Wood, 47, formerly of Bonners Drive, Axminster, and now of Durnford Street, Stonehouse, Plymouth, made the plea when appearing at Exeter Crown Court.

Fittings and goods were destroyed by the fire.

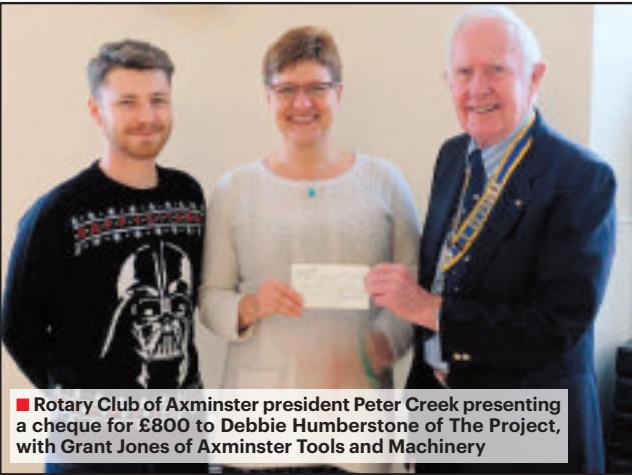

The case was adjourned to January 10th next year for a pre-sentence report.

Money stolen during Lyme Street break-in MONEY was stolen when a home in Lyme Street, Axminster, was burgled.

Police were called at about 2am on Tuesday, December 12th, and a police spokesperson said: "Entry was gained through damaging a door and windows.

"Cash, around £400, is believed to have been taken. The offender or offenders made off. This incident is currently under investigation and enquiries continue."

■ Rotary Club of Axminster president Peter Creek presenting a cheque for £800 to Debbie Humberstone of The Project, with Grant Jones of Axminster Tools & Machinery

■ TALENTED individuals from three organisations teamed up to entertain with Christmas carols. The assembled choir was made up of members of Axminster Care Service, Axminster Hospital League of Friends and Membury Raucous Chorus. They performed at Silverleigh Care Home (pictured) in Axminster and also appeared at the town's hospital.

Ax-pedition raises £1,600 for charity

THE third Ax-pedition Charity Cycle Sportive raised £1,600 for charity, equally divided between The Alzheimer's Society and The Project in Axminster.

Ax-pedition was organised by the Rotary Club of Axminster, in association with Axminster Tools &

Machinery, back in September.

Open to cyclists of all ages and abilities, the event took in roads and lanes of East Devon and West Dorset, giving a choice of the 'Ankle Grinder' (50 km) and the more gruelling 'Cyclone' course of 100 km.

Tickety-Boo recognised at tourism awards

■ OTTERY St Mary coffee shop and children's play kingdom, Tickety-Boo, collected its first ever gong at the Devon Tourism Awards.

The coffee shop received a bronze award, which means it is recognised as being in the top three café/tea rooms in the county, judged on such elements as inclusivity, customer service and sustainability including local sourcing. Part of the judging process was a mystery shopper who visited earlier in the year.

Tickety-Boo owner Stuart Phillips said: "It is the first time we have entered anything like this and we were bowled over to receive a bronze award.

"It is a huge accolade for our business and I'm very proud of the team for working so hard to make a success of Tickety-Boo.

"Everyone enjoyed the awards event at The Guildhall in Plymouth."

■ Senior citizens from Honiton enjoyed a Christmas meal at the college

AROUND 90 senior citizens enjoyed a Christmas meal provided by staff and students at Honiton Community College.

It was the fifth time that the event has been held.

Winnie Cameron of the Honiton Carers Support Group, who attended the event, said: "The students worked so hard to serve us all to perfection, supervised by Sue Smith from the college who did a fantastic job of keeping a great atmosphere going.

"We had wonderfully cooked food, flowing wine and entertainment by the students, which was just beautiful.

"Principal Glenn Smith can truly be proud of his students and staff alike, they all do him so very proud.

"A huge thank you also to the 19 generous businesses who donated a fantastic array of valuable raffle prizes to be won with much delight.

"There is a true community spirit here, where young students and Senior Citizens come together supporting one another, appreciating each others' company whilst having great fun."

Winnie Cameron would also like to thank Honiton & District Lions Club who sponsored Honiton Carers' Support Group this Christmas to enable their carers – and cared for – to have a well deserved Christmas tea at Otter Nurseries.

Ms Cameron added: "We are extremely grateful to the Lions for supporting us yet again this year."

New look for Beer's festive celebration

THE Christmas season in the seaside village of Beer got off to a suitably festive start on December 8th with the annual village celebration given a new look for 2017, writes KEVIN FAHEY.

The Mariners' Hall was handed over to the younger generation this year with a kids' disco – and a dads' dancing competition – while the popular craft fair was switched to St Michael's Church.

Appropriately, given the season of goodwill, Father Christmas dropped into the church to meet and greet his well-wishers and dispense wisdom and festive gifts.

Outdoors shoppers were entertained by a rousing singing of traditional carols and a performance by Honiton Town Band, who should be heartily commended for braving the bitterly cold conditions.

Inner warmth was provided by Mike Parker and his merry team upstairs in the Mariners' Hall bar while local chef Grant Cueto reported brisk business from his pig roast.

"It has been a good evening and it is great to see so many families and visitors out enjoying themselves despite the cold," said Mr Grant.

■ Warming refreshments in the church

■ Honiton Town Band put in a rousing performance

■ Grant Cueto's pig roast went down well

Buying the Perfect Christmas gift – What happens if it is not perfect?

IT'S that time of year again! Buying the perfect Christmas gift for friends and family seems to be at the top of most people's to-do list!

But what happens if the gift is not perfect? Or you find a gift that is even more perfect? What can you do then?

Buying items online is becoming more popular. But do you know your rights about buying items online? For example, did you know that you are able to return an item within 14 days of delivery without explanation? Once your item is returned the retailer must provide you with a refund within 14 days of receiving the returned item. You are also entitled for the basic cost of postage on the returned item, although it may be worth covering the difference with receipted delivery so you have proof of postage.

Unfortunately, this is not the case for items that have been bought in store and different shops have different return policies, which should be on the back of your receipt. Likewise, some items, including perishable or personalised items cannot be returned.

But what happens when you find that the gift that you bought is broken, or not what you had hoped it would be? You have the right to return an item that is not of satisfactory quality, not fit for purpose or not as described. If this is the case then you can return the item but you have to act fast, this only applies within the first 30 days since purchase (or delivery if you have bought it online). After this deadline, you have until 6 months since you bought the item for the retailer to attempt to repair or replace the item, if the problem still isn't fixed you are entitled to a full refund.

You can still get a repair or replacement on an item after 6 months, however, after this point the retailer is not obliged to provide you with a full refund if the item cannot be repaired or replaced. Plus after 6 months, you have to prove that fault was there when you purchased the gift.

You should also be aware that if you return an item that is faulty you are entitled to your refund in sterling as opposed to a gift voucher or credit note. You can also ask for a refund in sterling if you return an unwanted item, but there is no obligation for the retailer to do so if there is no fault with the item.

We hope that this has helped you with any present problems you may have over the Christmas period. Should you require further information on your Consumer Rights or any other legal issue then please feel free to come by one of the Scott Rowe Solicitors offices in Axminster, Chard and Lyme Regis and discuss your legal problems with one of our team.

Lady Taverners celebrate Christmas in Axmouth

■ THE Lady Taverners' (Seaton area) Christmas lunch was held at The Harbour Inn, Axmouth, on December 4th.

Apart from Christmas, members also celebrated another successful year.

Nearly £450 was raised on the day, with the tombola and raffle proving to be as popular as ever.

Monies raised goes towards fun days and outings as well as specialist equipment for the youngsters supported by the Lady Taverners.

erners, the organisation's motto being 'Giving Young People a Sporting Chance'.

Guests enjoyed a great lunch at The Harbour and raised their glasses to toast the charity and the special children they support.

Christmastime at Pecorama

■ EXCITED youngsters have been stepping aboard the Santa Special at Pecorama in Beer this week. Families have been enjoying rides on the festive-themed Santa Special train, followed by a visit to Santa's grotto to meet Father Christmas himself, along with his elves and Rudolph. The Santa Special, which includes Christmas treats in the grotto, will continue to run until Thursday, December 21st and last minute tickets may still be available on the website at www.pecorama.co.uk

Seaton Probus members enjoy talk on the power of advertising

MEMBERS of Seaton Probus club were entertained by Bruce Upton, from Bridport Museum, at their recent meeting.

'The Power of Advertising' proved to be just what Bruce claimed for his talk: educational, instructive and amusing.

Accompanied by photos, this light-hearted talk covered more than a 100 years of advertising, and the audience was delighted by what they saw and heard.

Our next meeting will be on January 3rd when Derek Blunt will give a talk on 'The Theatre'.

Meetings are held at Marshlands Centre and start at 10.30am.

Members are retired men (or those approaching retirement) and we welcome enquiries from anyone who would like to join us.

For more details please visit www.seatonprobus.co.uk or ring David Bridges on 01297 21560.

Can you help trace tractor?

■ I WAS unsure who to contact but this incident has left my parents quite shaken up and out of pocket. They have been in touch with the police but they have been unable to help.

My parents were travelling back home to Kingsteignton on the Alfington Road around 3.30pm after a lovely day out at Otter Nurseries on Tuesday, November 21st.

A blue tractor came towards them at speed and scrapped the side of their red car and didn't stop.

There were a few eye witnesses, one went after the tractor but never came back, one lovely person gave their name and details and a white van driver said he couldn't stop as he had deliveries to do.

My parents' car has been made unroadworthy and is currently in a garage being repaired and advice so far has been in the region of £1,000.

Whilst they are insured, they are now left with the excess to pay and higher insurance costs next year.

If anyone has heard about or was around when this incident occurred, could they please contact me at dlbennet@ukhometail.com

Pub's decorations are no better than roundabout's

■ AFTER reading the bitter rant over Fisherman's Gap decorations, I walked round the complainant's premises to admire her decorative efforts.

There weren't any special lights or any attractive decorations come to that. She obviously expected the rest of the council taxpayers to provide these for her enjoyment.

At the same time, I see the state of her building fitted in perfectly with her reference to the state of the traffic roundabout (though, in fact, the roundabout was clean and tidy).

Strangely, I didn't see a mention of the lack of ANY decorations in Harbour Road or the Frydays' shopping area, which, at night-time, is probably more visited, during the winter, than the sea front.

STUART NISBET,
Seaton

Think about the turkeys this Christmas

■ CHRISTMAS will soon be here. TV and newspaper adverts tempt shoppers with mouthwatering pictures of that centrepiece on the Christmas dinner table – the turkey or chicken.

Supermarket 'bargain offers' are designed to be hard to resist.

But how many people are aware of the life that most of these creatures have had to endure for that oven-ready end-product to be so cheap?

Factory-farmed poultry (a secretive industry) involves many thousands of birds in hangar-sized 'sheds'.

Fattened artificially fast to keep costs down; not enough room to move about or flap their wings; legs becoming unable to bear their unnatural weight – to mention a few of the problems of this intensive production.

Most factory-farmed poultry never sees daylight or a blade of grass in its entire miserable life.

It is just a 'product'. So, when Christmas poultry is offered at a bargain price, the cost will have been borne by living creatures, the turkeys and chickens.

Compassion in World Farming works tirelessly to raise welfare standards for food animals, and their website ciwf.org will provide information for those who wish to know the facts behind the adverts and make an informed choice.

K. HACKMAN,

■ CONGRATULATIONS to all the staff and volunteers at the Beehive, Honiton, for winning the Devon Community Centre of the Year award for 2017.

Since it opened, The Beehive has raised its profile and provides a valued venue for a multitude of community activities, arts and entertainment for all.

The vision and commitment of Honiton

Town Council and the dedication and enthusiasm of the staff and volunteers of the Beehive has given us a venue which is the envy of many other towns.

Well done to everyone. An award well deserved.

Citizens Advice funding worries

■ I WAS very concerned at the BBC local news on December 9th saying that eight out of ten Cornish CABs are to be lost due to drastic cuts to their funding?

This, in the political current climate, is a disaster to people already suffering hardship.

Should it happen here, just as Universal Credit is being rolled out, the unthinkable hardship would mean a cruelly harsh reality for many, who then would issue food bank vouchers?

Time I feel for our councillors to be double checking with Devon County Council that Devon CAB funding is secure, as with the sudden loss of (beds at) Seaton Hospital seemingly catching everyone unaware until it was too late, I don't have much faith in this current government preoccupied and totally gridlocked with Brexit.

Their view will be well 'You voted for this; mayhem was what you wanted – what did you expect?'

In short it is becoming clear that there is a choice we can have Brexit or a welfare system/NHS but not both!

RICHARD 'NIBBY' DAVID,
Seaton

Hospital in sorry state

■ YESTERDAY I had an appointment at Seaton Hospital.

As one of the many people who regularly helped to raise funds to sustain this essential building I felt devastated when I saw how sad and empty the building looks now.

What nonsense we are fed about the 'new' way forward which means we don't need a hospital (which in my experience was pretty full most of the time with people waiting to get in).

Common sense (if these people had any!) would mean keeping the hospital because it worked and then review the bits that don't work – and there's a lot there!

Lets hope those in power learn to truly understand what is needed and maybe take a pay cut or two so the money can go where it needs to.

MARIE DOWELL,
Seaton

Bank closures are killing the high street as well as being an inconvenience

■ AN OPEN LETTER TO RBS (concerning the closure of local branches of NatWest): Thank you for your letter informing me of the closure of my local branch, where I make my monthly transactions.

The first line of your letter states you are making improvements for my convenience. Well, you are not.

Everyone I have spoken to has expressed grave disappointment that customers and staff have not been considered at all.

I am not expecting you to take any notice of this message – people don't count to organisations such as yours and therein lies the reason for so many problems in what used to be civilisation. VERY disappointed.

You have not considered the effect of such closures to smaller towns where you have the use of mostly impressive large buildings that will be hard to fill, adding to the death of the high street.

EVE EDMEDAES,

EDEN GARDEN FENCING

AT EDEN Garden Fencing and Landscaping based in Seaton, Devon we have been building and installing quality Fencing, Gates and Decking, along with Landscaping, for some 15 years. This makes finding a Fencing Contractor simple by providing for all clients' requirements, large and small locally. The timber products side of Landscapers, Eden Garden Developments, offers a friendly, professional, integrated service and the Seaton, Devon base covers a 30 mile radius.

A timely example, given the present gusty conditions, is Garden Fencing, where this can be replaced or repaired, depending upon condition and the budget available. This can be either Close Board, Panel (with or without Trellis), Post and Rail or Picket Fencing. Eden Garden Fencing and Landscaping also supply and fit Gates (see insets). Whilst we take pride in installing robust and durable fencing products, "cost leadership" is still at the forefront of the business, whilst keeping quality and the principles of design foremost. Much of the work can be done during Autumn and Winter when the ground is less compacted and this time is also perfect for renovating the garden generally. So by Spring many garden improvements can be ready to be enjoyed. There is now a dedicated Timber Products website, www.edengardenfencing.co.uk, giving examples of the range and quality of workmanship. Additionally, information can be obtained by calling 01297 23596 (mobile 07977 415446) or visiting the general web pages at www.a1-environmental.com

COLOURFENCE

Colourfence - The ONLY garden fence you will ever need!

ANDY AND SHELLEY Stewart, launched Colourfence 3 years ago in South Somerset & Dorset. They have been working hard towards promoting Colourfence and this is fast becoming a well-known product across their area. Great news for the area's homeowners who have become frustrated and tired of maintaining their traditional timber fencing!

The feedback from their customers has been overwhelming and this has increased their recommendations from happy customers, who are extremely pleased with their new low maintenance fence, so they can now spend more time enjoying their gardens.

Colourfence is the alternative to timber fencing..... Our fence is guaranteed not to warp, chip or peel for up to 25 years*. Put an end to painting, an end to rotten posts - an end to constant maintenance! Colourfence goes up, stays up whatever the weather, even against wind gusts of 130mph! Virtually maintenance free, with an occasional wash down with water to keep it looking as good as new. Both sides of the panel are the same, so both you and your neighbour have a stunning fence to look at year after year, ensuring good neighbourly relations.

Our fences and gates are available in a variety of heights and colours with or without trellis, our skilled installation team will make short work of transforming your garden. Starting costs are in line with comparable traditional systems but offer the ongoing peace of mind that Colourfence will continue to save you time and money year after year.

Call today for a free no obligation visit 01935 481013, Website: www.colourfencesouthsomerset.co.uk

How to entertain the Granchildren at Christmas, before they open their presents!

KEEPING the children entertained in the build-up to Christmas can be tricky. There are lots of ways to entertain the children without spending a fortune.

Christmas treasure hunt around the house

Keep the children entertained for hours with a cryptic treasure hunt around the house! Be aware of the age range of the audience and adapt the clues to suit. If you have a wide age range, organise the children into mixed-age teams, each with an older child as a team leader. The clues should be Christmas themed and build towards an end prize. Elongate the fun by choosing an end prize that requires making or creating. For example, hide a loot-bag filled with make-your-own-snow-globes as the end gift. The children can then build their snow globes straight after as a new activity.

Keep them active

As the cold nights draw in, it can be hard to keep children active. This can be a double problem, as children will inevitably eat a lot more treats at this time of year. Overcome this by encouraging active games that the children can play together. If you're tight on space, choose a competition that can be completed as individuals, such as a Wii tournament to keep them excited, engaged and active. It's an oldie, but a goodie - a game of Twister is active, fun and can be enjoyed by everyone. Or better still, take the whole family on a scavenger-hunt-style nature walk. Select 10 items the children must find or see on the walk, ticking each item off as you go.

DOVELEIGH CARE LTD SCOOP NATIONAL AWARDS

WINNERS of the National Care Awards 2017 were presented with their trophies by David Baddiel at a high profile Gala Night held on Friday 24th November at the Hilton London Metropole Hotel, attended by over 750 guests. Doveleigh Care Ltd won the Care Home Group of the Year category and one of its homes, Arcot House in Sidmouth, won the prestigious National Care Home of the Year award. Arcot House is one of three care homes owned and run by Doveleigh Care Ltd, the others being Doveridge in Colyton and Dove Court in Seaton. All three have been rated "Outstanding" by the Care Quality Commission and all three are also presently rated by reviews as the best three care homes in East Devon by carehome.co.uk.

Life in any of our care homes is all about helping our residents to enjoy more independent and fulfilling lives through regular activities, trips, freshly prepared meals and outstanding care. Keith Mills, the owner, said: "I am extremely proud of all of my hard working and dedicated staff that has enabled us to win these two prestigious awards. To be rated the best care home group in the entire country is a phenomenal achievement, but to be also awarded national Care Home of the Year is an added bonus."

The owner and senior management of Doveleigh Care Ltd collect their awards from David Baddiel.

Does winter make your Arthritis worse? Here's how to prevent joint pain flare-ups from cold weather this Christmas

WE'RE a nation that knows a thing or two about joint pain. With around 10 million people suffering with arthritis, which can range from mild to severe, it's one of the leading causes of disability in the UK.

But while the condition is fairly common, it is rarely understood. 'Arthritis' isn't just one single disease, but actually relates to 100 different types of joint pain, which can range from a dull ache to crippling agony - and the arrival of colder, wintry weather often causes symptoms to flare up.

Here, Dr Sarah Brewer, medical director at Healthspan (healthspan.co.uk), gives us the lowdown on managing arthritis in winter.

What exactly is arthritis?

"The word arthritis literally means inflammation of a joint," says Dr Brewer. "The most common type, osteoarthritis, involves degeneration of the articular cartilage protecting the bone ends within a joint."

Without cartilage protection, tendons and ligaments have to work harder, and severe loss of cartilage can lead to bone rubbing on bone, causing friction and eventual swelling and inflammation.

Arthritis can also rear its ugly head when parts of a joint are wrongly identified as a 'foreign' threat and are attacked by immune processes - which is the case with rheumatoid arthritis, an autoimmune disease - and people with fibromyalgia can also suffer with arthritis. While far more common in older age groups, anybody, even children, can get arthritis.

"Other forms of arthritis include gout," says Dr Brewer, "septic (infective arthritis), psoriatic arthritis (associated with psoriasis) and reactive arthritis, which is where antibodies formed against an infection start to attack the joints."

What are the symptoms?

The first sign of osteoarthritis is typically the worst one: Pain. In the early stages, this can feel like a dull ache or a burning sensation. Often, you'll feel the pain after you've used the affected joint a lot, for instance, if you've been driving a car or walking up a flight of stairs.

Osteoarthritis usually affects the larger, weight-bearing joints, such as hips, knees and the lower back, although the neck, fingers and toes may also be affected.

Rheumatoid arthritis is more likely to affect the whole body and is often associated with severe stiffness - it usually takes sufferers a long time to get their joints moving, especially in the morning - and the 'triggers' can be very different.

Arthritis inflammation is associated with swelling too, and can eventually lead to deformity and loss of joint function over time, says Dr Brewer.

Is arthritis really worse in winter?

"Cold weather appears to make arthritis pain worse for many people, although the reason is poorly understood," says Dr Brewer. "A small study involving 25 people with osteoarthritis or rheumatoid arthritis found that 92% believed their symptoms were influenced by cold weather, and when their pain and stiffness scores were checked against meteorological data, there was a strong correlation."

"One possibility is that changes in musculoskeletal symptoms are related to falling vitamin D levels during winter," she adds. "Another factor could be that pain receptors become more sensitive when surrounding temperature receptors that detect cold become more active."

So, how can you manage winter flare-ups?

When it's cold outside, one of the best ways to keep joints happy is to cover them up - so make sure you're wearing thick layers and keep aching hands warm with gloves.

While it's tempting to reach for the medicine cabinet whenever you feel a twinge of pain (although it's always advisable to discuss your pain management needs with your GP or consultant, to ensure your symptoms are being managed in the best way possible for you), Dr Brewer says it might not necessarily be the best choice in the long run. "Oral painkillers, such as paracetamol and NSAIDs, are less used now because of [possible] long-term side effects," she says. "Topical creams and gels that sink in to provide pain relief exactly where it's needed are increasingly popular."

Swimming in a heated pool can also help to soothe painful joints, and you can also find quick and easy relief from taking warm baths, according to The Arthritis Foundation. Relaxing in a steamy bubble bath just before bed can mean the difference between lying awake all night in pain or drifting off peacefully.

Hazelwell Lodge

HAZELWELL LODGE is an award-winning 35 bed specialist residential care home situated in the parish town of Ilminster in South West Somerset. Miss Edna Maxwin took over the running of the home in 1987, for the elderly & individual's with dementia. Her aim was to change people's perception of care homes & how people view their autumn years. Through her dedication & hard work we progressed on to specializing in the care of individuals living with dementia & associated mental health care needs. The operation of the home is designed to enable our residents to resume a much more desirable way of living that achieves their individual needs on a personal level through person centered care. We have created a homely environment which is safe & adaptable to the unique needs of each individual, this enables our residents to enjoy as much independence, mental & physical stimulation as possible. Miss Maxwin has been joined by her son Chris

Netherhayes Care Home

NETHERHAYES is Seaton's premiere Care Home and has been successfully caring for the elderly since it was purchased by the present partnership in 1993. It is the Care Management team's focus on achieving the highest standards possible that have built Netherhayes' reputation as a forerunner in the provision of care for the elderly in East Devon.

Helping you choose the right care

Choosing the right Care Home for oneself or for a dear relative must be one of the most difficult decisions to make. Often this decision has to be made as a result of circumstances just when emotions are running high and it can all be very overwhelming.

The team at Netherhayes Care Home are there to help in making that decision easier. They are able to offer confidential, practical advice and support. Our friendly team of staff are available at any time to discuss queries or concerns you may have. Visits can be arranged if you would like to see around Netherhayes Care Home and the landscaped grounds.

The home is situated in the centre of Seaton Town, with views from the lovely garden over the Axe Valley to the golf course and the cliffs beyond.

"We are totally committed to the comfort and quality of care for each resident and the individual is of prime importance at Netherhayes Care Home". Our Home prides itself on offering highly professional care with a personal touch.

Small enough to care, big enough to cope

AXMINSTER Garden Machinery was formed in 1999 by Phil Roper, who has worked in the horticultural industry as a garden machinery expert for 38 years.

In fact, Phil's interest in the industry goes all the way back to when he was nine years-old when he used to take parcels to Chard Post Office on his bicycle for Chard Agricultural Supplies where his mum worked as an accounts clerk.

He also worked for the Chard company during the school holidays and on leaving school in 1979 he started an apprenticeship as a horticultural engineer with Norringtons in Chard where he worked until 1987 before joining M.S. Twose in Axminster.

When MST closed their Axminster branch in 1999, Phil decided to launch Axminster Garden Machinery, joining forces with Rodney Broom, who looks after the workshop.

The AGM team is completed by Phil's wife, Paula, who looks after the accounts, and apprentice Chris Graham, who attends day release at Bicton College of Agriculture where he recently won the coveted Brian Hart Award for Agricultural Engineering. Chris also looks after all the IT needs at AGM.

With such a wealth of experience behind them, AGM are able to offer their customers - both old and new - expert knowledge last year they walked away with the Dave Swarbrick Rosebowl, donated in memory of the festival founder, for the best stand.

Says Phil: "When repairing machinery we at Axminster Garden Machinery firmly believe in quality engineering and design when it comes to new equipment and I personally carefully select every piece of machinery we sell and have used and tested all the machinery we offer."

"We pride ourselves on the fact that all the equipment we sell we are factory main appointed dealers for this gives the customer a piece of mind when it comes to spares or repairs or servicing. We can provide the full backup."

"We are a complete garden machinery business we are main dealers for everything we sell which means we offer you the customer the complete package as we have something for everyone with full back up service and parts."

"At Axminster Garden Machinery, we are small enough to care and big enough to cope."

SPARKLING CRANBERRY WHITE CHOCOLATE CAKE

www.lifeloveandsugar.com

Sparkling Cranberries

- 150g fresh cranberries
- 310g sugar, divided
- 240ml water

Cranberry Cake

- 433g all purpose flour
- 414g sugar
- 2 1/2 tsp baking powder
- 340g salted butter, room temperature
- 3 eggs
- 2 tbsp vanilla extract
- 240ml sour cream
- 240ml milk
- 200g fresh cranberries

White Chocolate Icing

- 12 oz white chocolate chips
- 180ml heavy whipping cream
- 168g butter, room temperature
- 920-1035g powdered sugar

INSTRUCTIONS

Sparkling Cranberries

1. Bring 1 cup sugar and water to a simmer in a saucepan. Simmer until sugar is completely dissolved.
2. Pour simple syrup into a heatproof bowl and allow to cool for about 10 minutes.
3. Add cranberries and stir to coat.
4. Refrigerate cranberries in syrup overnight, stirred a couple times to coat with syrup.
5. Remove cranberries from syrup and roll in remaining 1/2 cup of sugar. You'll need to roll them a few times to get a couple layers of sugar on them.
6. Set cranberries aside to dry for a hour or so.

Cranberry Cake

1. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Prepare three 8 inch cake pans with baking spray and parchment paper in the bottom of the pans.
2. Whisk together flour, sugar and baking powder in a large mixing bowl.
3. Add butter, eggs, vanilla extract, sour cream and milk and mix on medium speed just until smooth. Do not over mix.
4. Gently stir in cranberries.
5. Spread batter evenly between the three cake pan.
6. Bake 35-40 minutes, until a toothpick inserted comes out with a few crumbs.
7. Allow to cool for about 10 minutes, then remove to cooling rack to finish cooling.

White Chocolate Icing

1. Place white chocolate chips in a metal bowl.
2. Microwave heavy cream until it starts to boil. Remove from microwave and pour over chocolate chips.
3. Cover bowl with saran wrap for 5-7 minutes.
4. Whisk chocolate and cream until smooth.
5. Allow ganache to sit until mostly cool. It should be thick.
6. Beat the ganache with a mixer for about 2-3 minutes, until smooth and fluffy.
7. Add butter and beat until it is fully combined.
8. Slowly add powdered sugar and beat until it is fluffy and the right consistency. Add more cream if needed.

To put the cake together:

1. Remove cake domes from cakes with a large serrated knife.

2. Place first layer of cake on cake plate. Spread about icing on top in an even layer.
3. Add second layer of cake and add more icing on top in an even layer.
4. Add final layer of cake on top and ice the outside of the cake.

5. Top the cake with sparkling cranberries and add some around the edge, if desired.

NOTE: Most cakes are best if they are allowed to settle for at least 12-24 hours after icing. It allows to flavors to settle. This cake will stay moist for several days after being iced.

CRANBERRY AND BRIE PUFF PASTRY WREATH

www.simply-delicious-food.com
Servings: 4 -6

INGREDIENTS

- 1 sheet puff pastry thawed
- 2-3 tablespoons cranberry sauce
- 200g Brie cheese sliced
- 2 tbsp pistachio nuts roughly chopped
- 1 egg beaten

INSTRUCTIONS

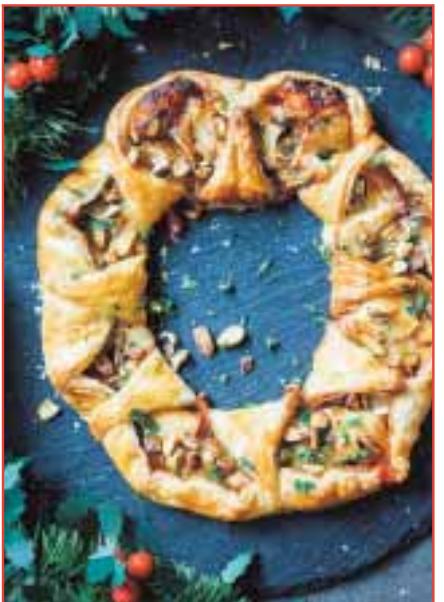

1. Pre-heat the oven to 200°C and line a baking sheet with parchment paper.
2. Roll the pastry out to around 5mm thick and cut a large circle out of the pastry.
3. Lay the pastry on the prepared baking sheet.
4. Mark a circle with a medium-sized bowl and with a sharp knife, cut 4 cuts into the center circle.
5. Spread the cranberry sauce around the center "star" then top with the Brie and pistachios.

6. Bring one point of the center star over the filling as well as bringing the outer edge of pastry inwards. Press the two together and continue until you have a wreath.

7. Brush with beaten egg then place in the oven and allow to bake for 15 minutes until golden brown and cooked through.

8. Remove from the oven, allow to rest for 5 minutes then slice and serve.

CHRISTMAS DAY PUNCH

By Nicky -www.kitchensanctuary.com
Servings: 18-20

INGREDIENTS

- 2 litres cranberry juice
- 700ml pomegranate juice
- 500ml clementine juice (use orange juice if you can't find clementine juice)
- Juice of 2 limes
- 3 limes, sliced
- 3 clementines, sliced
- 100g fresh or frozen cranberries
- Seeds from 1 pomegranate
- Ice
- 1 bottle of prosecco
- 300ml vodka
- Small bunch of mint leaves

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Pour the cranberry juice, pomegranate juice, clementine juice and juice of 2 limes into a large punch bowl and stir. Add the lime slices, clementine slices, cranberries and pomegranate seeds. If you're making the punch ahead, you can cover and place the punch in the fridge at this point for 2-3 hours.

2. When ready to serve, add ice to the punch, then pour in the prosecco and vodka. Stir and sprinkle on fresh mint leaves.

many films that boasts Gandalf, Batman, Han Solo and Abraham Lincoln sharing the screen together!

Toy Story 3 - Christmas Day - BBC 1 - 1.20pm

The third film of the franchise is arguably the best, mixing charm, laughs and heart-tugging drama. Now that Andy is grown up and heading for college, Woody and gang make a plan that will save them from being left in the attic.

Make sure you have your tissues at the ready!

Hugo - New Year's Day - Channel 4 - 1:10pm

Adapted from the beloved children's book, veteran director, Martin Scorsese, directs this hugely enjoyable family movie that will appeal to younger ages and adults alike. The Oscar-winning film features an all-star ensemble cast and a captivatingly magical story.

The Muppet Christmas Carol - Christmas Eve - Channel 4 - 6.30pm

How can you improve A Christmas Carol? By adding Muppets of course! Ever since its release in 1992, The Muppet Christmas Carol has earned its place as a definitive Christmas classic.

Serving as a great introduction to the Christmas fable to far younger children, all with be enthralled by the catchy songs and charming humour.

TOP TEN TO WATCH THIS CHRISTMAS

1. Doctor Who - Christmas Day - BBC1 - 5.30pm

For many people, Christmas just isn't Christmas without Doctor Who, this year is no different. This episode is teasingly named 'Twice Upon A Time' and true to that title, the current Doctor is joined by the first incarnation.

If you needed another reason to tune in, this will be the last episode to feature Peter Capaldi as The Doctor and will be our first glimpse of the new Doctor, Jodie Whittaker!

This year the special airs at the slightly earlier time of 5.30pm.

2. Christmas University Challenge - Christmas Eve - BBC 2 - 8pm

Famed for its tricky questions and know-it-all students that put Google to shame, what better programme is there to brush upon your general knowledge than University Challenge? This festive edition is sure to get your brain in gear after gorging yourself with treats.

Your 'Starter for Ten' begins at 8pm

3. Christmas TOTP 2 - Christmas Eve - BBC 2 - 11.55pm

Is it really Christmas if you haven't heard Last Christmas for the tenth time? Mark Radcliffe presents this festive clip show with a plethora of archive performances from all your Christmas favourites and a few surprises too. Expect the likes of Slade, Wizzard, Paul McCartney. There's a bonus treat too with a rare footage of Kate Bush. Seeing you into the wee hours of Christmas morning, the programme starts at 11:55pm

4. Alan Partridge: Who, When, Where, How and When? - 27th December - BBC2 - 9pm

Before Alan Partridge returns triumphantly to our screen in 2018, this intimate retrospective explores the roots and cultural impact of Britain's favourite comedy character.

Featuring archive footage and interviews with cast and crew, this is required viewing for Partridge fans.

The programme starts at 9pm and, as Alan would say 'lovely stuff'.

5. The Miniaturist - Boxing Day - BBC 1 - 9pm

This two-part period drama, based on the best-selling debut novel by Jessie Burton, looks likely to be the must-watch drama of the Christmas period.

Set in 1686, the drama tells story of Nella Oortman, who after marrying a rich merchant, hopes for a better life but instead of prosperity, she finds her ideal life is not quite the one she dreamt about. Her trouble begins when she is gifted a miniature replica of her home, complete with figures of the occupants.

The first instalment airs 9pm on Boxing Day with the second released the following day at the same time.

6. Our Friend Victoria at Christmas - 23rd December - BBC 1 - 9.30pm

Victoria Wood was one of Britain's greatest comic talents, famed for her sharp wit, subtle observations and song writing talent, Wood has been sorely missed from our screens ever since she passed away in 2016.

This documentary looks back on her huge body of work, which encompassed television, films, and musicals. As the title suggests, we see Victoria's take on Christmas through her stand up and archive clips.

Tune in at 9.30pm and raise a glass to one of Britain's most underrated comic heroes.

7. Travel Man Christmas - Boxing Day - Channel 4 - 8pm

Beloved TV personality, Richard Ayoade, is joined by Mad Men star, Jon Hamm, for this Christmas Special edition of the hugely popular 'Travel Man' series. The unlikely pair will be heading off to Hong Kong. Expect some trademark Ayoade awkwardness and off-key observations, whilst taking in beautiful sights.

Travel Man Christmas airs Boxing Day at 8pm.

8. We're Going on A Bear Hunt - Boxing Day - Channel 4 - 7pm

Last year, the award-winning team that brought us The Snowman and the Snowdog, released their half-hour animation based on the beloved children's classic 'We're Going On A Bear Hunt' by Michael Rosen and illustrator, Helen Oxenbury.

Guaranteed to become a family favourite, We're Going on a Bear Hunt follows the adventures of siblings Stan, Katie, Rosie, Max, the Baby and Rufus the dog who all decide to go in search of bears.

9. Vic and Bob's Big Night Out - 29th December - BBC2 - 9pm

Surreal comedy pair, Vic Reeves and Bob Mortimer return to the roots of the showbiz career in this special one-off edition of Vic and Bob's Big Night Out. The half-hour special consists of sketches, special celebrity guests, stunts and other silly business that you'd expect from TV's funniest double act.

Vic and Bob's Big Night Out will return for a full series in 2018 but the Christmas special should keep your comedy cravings satisfied until the New Year.

You can catch the pair on your screen at 9pm.

10. Jools' Annual Hootenanny - New Year's Eve - BBC2 - 11.20pm

Required viewing for most households in the United Kingdom, surely there is no better way to see in the New Year than with Jools Holland's Hootenanny on the telly with the volume cranked up. This year's line-up boasts a wealth of talent to suit all tastes: Ed Sheeran, Beth Ditto, Jazzy B, Soul II Soul, Jessie Ware and many more.

Gather friends and family round and tune in from 11.20pm

It's not just about the air quality in the town centre

■ Re: Honiton & Ottery front page, November 28th

BEFORE we get too complacent about Honiton's improved air quality perhaps we should consider those living outside the town centre of whom there are far more with properties alongside main roads and near the centre than live actually in town.

For instance, for 20 years we have lived not far from the town centre, one side of the garden backing on to Monkton Road and another side running by the A35/A30 junction.

Since living here black sludge constantly covers our window sills and plants growing by the fence deposited by the pollution from the constant stream of HGVs hurtling from the King Street mini-roundabout to the A30. I hate to think about the state of our lungs.

This problem is exacerbated in the summer by the build up of holiday traffic joining the A35 to Axminster and beyond.

What price improved readings now. Where was the receptor locator in this area?

ANN ABLE,
Honiton

Thanks for help

■ I WOULD like to thank all the people that helped my mother on Saturday, December 9th.

Crossing the road between the Co-op car park and Minster Court in Axminster she fell, catching the wheel of her walker on the pavement.

People were so kind; those walking past, a van driver, David (the warden) from Minster Court and Kate.

The paramedics were called and arrived promptly. My husband and I arrived to find her well cared for by so many kind people.

Mum was injured but not badly enough to go to hospital so we would like to say a huge thank you to everyone. The joy of living in a small and caring community.

Hospitals campaign group not political

■ Re: Seaton & Colyton front page, November 28th

OH DEAR, is Councillor Burrows stamping his foot and behaving like a child who wasn't invited to the party?

First of all the group he is referring to is NOT political!

It was convened at a well attended meeting about the Seaton Hospital (beds) closure at Colyford in March 2017, where people left their email addresses to stay informed.

A demonstration was held on April 1st outside Seaton hospital, against the proposed hospital (beds) closure.

■ WE ARE very saddened to see in the recent local press that the campaign to save our community hospital appears to have taken a political turn.

We think it is vital that we retain services in our local community hospitals and are fiercely opposed to the selling of the hospital estates, particularly those that were at least partly funded by local residents.

As avid campaigners in the fight to save our local hospitals, we would just like to clarify our position. We have absolutely no political agenda and are purely trying to keep our specialist clinics and facilities now that our hospital beds have gone.

We hope that people will realise that this is a non-political issue and should be of concern to all members of our communities.

TONY & DI SMITH, JOHN RAMSAY
and JUDITH RICHARDS,
Seaton

He works tirelessly often against the councillors who appear to follow religiously the dictates of their political party.

I cannot believe that Councillor Burrows did not know about this group.

We didn't have to be asked to join the group or to go to meetings, we went because we were all concerned about the proposed hospital closure.

Was Councillor Burrows at that demonstration? Did he know it was happening? It was well publicised.

We are lucky to have Councillor Shaw, our independent councillor, who is not hidebound by a political party, leading our cause.

JULIE HOOPER,
Seaton

Brussels is 'corrupt, unelected monster'

■ I HAVE been following Richard David's correspondence in your paper with some interest.

It seems to me that his views are like all the Remainers in that if you do not agree with them you must be stupid.

I am not at all bitter about the nasty comments made about the majority who voted to leave that corrupt, unelected monster in Brussels.

I first voted Conservative in the 1950s because my father kept ranting on about the Labour Party.

At the time my interest in political matters was none existent. However since that time I have very much kept up to speed with political matters and I consider that I have kept a balanced view throughout my life.

During my career in business, including working with colleagues in the Federation of Small Business, I formed my belief that to stay in the EU would lead to a disaster at some date in the future, a belief I still hold.

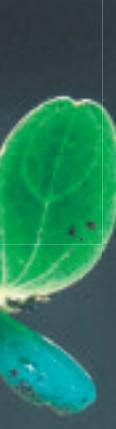

Just a few of my reasons for leaving the EU:

1. Lack of accountability (accounts have not been signed off for more than 20 years);
2. The people running the EU have never been elected by the people – I know we have MEPs but they only rubber stamp what they are told and have no authority in running the EU;
3. The EU has no care about how much money is spent indeed they will just keep asking for more;
4. This country needs to be governed by the people of this country and not have our laws overridden by the unelected bureaucrats in Brussels.

It does not serve any purpose to imply that we who wish this country to leave are poorly educated and stupid and have no grasp of politics. This is not the case, in fact, I believe it is quite the opposite.

Folk's finest head to Somerset for performance of The Transports

A 40TH ANNIVERSARY revival of Peter Bellamy's most revered work, 'The Transports', performed by some of the UK's finest folk stars at the start of the year, resoundingly lived up to its billing as one of the key folk music events of 2017.

Wall-to-wall acclaim from the critics was topped by a 5* review in The Guardian which described it as "A stunning fully staged folk suite of extraordinary richness and variety."

Now there is a second chance to see the famed and emotive story of 18th century exile, with the original cast reprising their roles, when the show heads to Yeovil's Octagon Theatre on January 12th.

The Young'uns, BBC Radio 2 Folk Awards Best Group (2016 and 2015) will join forces with fellow Folk Awards winners Nancy Kerr (Folk Singer of the Year 2015) and Greg Russell (Young Folk Award and Horizon Award).

They will be joined by ex-Bellowhead cellist Rachael McShane and celebrated trio Faustus (Paul Sartin, Benji Kirkpatrick and Saul Rose).

Sartin, another former member of the esteemed and much-missed Bellowhead, is also Musical Director of the project while author, storyteller and folk singer Matthew Crampton is once again the narrator and Tim Dalling (The New Rope String Band) is Creative Director.

The collective will take to the road in January 2018 in a 14-date tour of the ground-breaking ballad opera opening at Cheltenham Town Hall on January 10 and aptly bringing the curtain down in Norwich on January 24 - the city from which the story originates.

Supported by Arts Council England, the show fuses together moving, inspirational music and spellbinding storytelling within a vital historical and contemporary tapestry. Rarely can Bellamy's famed folk opera - a tale of 18th century exile - have been more pertinent, set against the current tide of forced migration.

Bellamy, a unique singer, musician and composer, tragically took his own life in 1991 at the age of just 47, but left a treasure trove of work of which The Transports is seen as his greatest triumph.

Complementing the tour once again will be the accompanying 'Parallel Lives' project which aims to link the show to refugee support groups in the tour towns.

The Transports was written after Bellamy read a story in his local Norfolk newspaper about the first transport ship to Australia. It is based on the remarkable true tale of convicts Henry Cabell and Susannah Holmes. Imprisoned for theft at Norwich Gaol prior to being transported the pair fall in love and have a son but are refused permission to marry. As Susannah awaits transportation to Australia at the quayside her son is refused passage but a guard, taking pity on her, travels with the infant to London to appeal to Lord Sydney, Home Secretary. Sydney orders that Cabell and Holmes be reunited, allowed to marry and transported together with their son as a family.

The folk opera was released on Free Reed Records in 1977 featuring some of the biggest names from the Seventies folk revival - The Watersons, Martin Carthy, Nic Jones, A.L. Lloyd, June Tabor, Cyril Tawney and Dave Swarbrick - and was named The Guardian's Folk Album of the Year. It was first performed at Norwich Castle and has enjoyed several revivals since then including one marking its 25th anniversary.

While Paul Sartin has composed new musical arrangements storyteller Matthew Crampton has created fresh narrative elements to tell more fully the extraordinary story behind The Transports.

Says Paul: "This is perhaps Peter Bellamy's greatest legacy - an immensely powerful, beautiful and haunting collection of songs and texts crafted in a traditional English idiom. Unique in its conception, it is unified by a narrative which speaks with immediacy and passion and demands both musical and human responses."

Matthew has toured a show based on his latest book 'Human Cargo: Stories and Songs of Emigration, Slavery and Transportation'. He says: "Mass migration is a defining dilemma of today.

There's seldom been a more vital moment to revisit The Transports - it's not just a great musical experience but a sharp reminder of folk music's power in portraying the way the world works."

"In our accompanying Parallel Lives project we will work with organisations supporting refugees in Britain, gathering stories of those trafficked or transported from Britain in the past alongside the stories of those arriving in the country and showing how the ebb and flow of migration has helped shape our country."

The performance will also include one new song that fuses perfectly with the Bellamy originals - the moving and much acclaimed Dark Water, penned by Sean Cooney of The Young'uns, voted one of the best 100 tracks of 2017 by The Guardian.

It tells the story of Hesham Modamani from Syria who, after fleeing his home country following the disappearance of his brother, took the drastic decision to swim the Aegean Sea with fellow Syrian Feras Abukhalil. Hesham is now studying in Germany and recently The Young'uns went there to meet him.

Award-winning record producer Andy Bell will be the sound engineer for the production, with Emma Thompson creating the lighting. Coinciding with the tour will be the release of the live recording of The Transports on January 12th on Hudson Records, a landmark album destined to become a collector's item.

The Transports will be performed at Yeovil's Octagon Theatre on Friday, January 12th 2018. Tickets are £20.50 available from www.octagon-theatre.co.uk or by calling 01935 422884.

Double awards triumph for The Beehive

'Community Centre of the Year' in Devon Community Honours 2017

THE first Devon Community Honours took place last week, to thank some of Devon's most selfless individuals for their efforts to make the county a better place to live. Among them was The Beehive in Honiton, honoured as 'Community Centre of the Year'. The award recognises community groups and organisations running a community centre with the help of local residents who volunteer their time.

Honiton Community Complex Charity, the team running The Beehive which includes over 100 volunteers and staff, aims to create a vibrant and stimulating centre that engages, challenges, entertains, supports, educates and encompasses the whole community.

Since opening in 2014, The Beehive has welcomed over 59,000 people to the building each year. The building is used by over 80 community organisations and special interest groups.

Five representatives from The Beehive attended the award ceremony at Exeter Castle which was organised by DevonLive, in association with Devon County Council. The afternoon began with a welcome reception in the Terrace Rooms, followed by afternoon tea in the Ballroom. Judi Spiers hosted the event and introduced all of the successful nominees.

Barry Simmonds, Chairman said "winning a 'Community Centre of the Year' award is an amazing accolade. It's fantastic that everyone who gives up their time to volunteer at The Beehive has been recognised for their hard work. I'm proud of what we have achieved as a community."

The community centre award sponsor Western Power Distribution said "Community Centres, like our business, operate at the heart of its community. They often provide a safe haven for people who seek the company of others in a shared activity or event. They bring together people who make up the diverse nature of the local community to have fun, share experiences and support others. We are delighted to support the amazing people who make these community centres such a valuable resource for the wider community."

■ Members of The Beehive team

'Fantastic For Families'

Officially registered for the Family Arts Standards

The Beehive has become an officially-registered venue for the Family Arts Standards.

The Family Arts Standards campaign is a national collaborative led by the visual and performing arts sectors to increase levels of arts engagement by families and is funded by the Arts Council England.

The standards are designed as a benchmark for organisations providing an exceptional welcome to families when attending an arts event - covering key areas such as programming and promotion, consultation with families, and facilities.

The Beehive presents a range of events suitable for children and families throughout the year including films, theatre performances, pantomimes and shows and hands-on events. Partner organisations also run dance, creative arts and amateur theatre groups for children and young people of all ages.

The building is very accessible to families with free parking, baby changing and "changing places" facilities, easy access and storage for wheelchairs and children's buggies, high chairs and free tap water in the café, plus auditorium booster seats.

"The Family Arts Standards has been an excellent process to go through" said Katherin Hope, Deputy Operation Manager at The Beehive. "It has made us consider how we can improve our offer and communications to families and ensure that every visit is an enjoyable and rewarding experience."

This Is The Kit to play live in Lyme

THIS Is The Kit will play the Marine Theatre as the first date of an international tour. The playful indie folk band led by Paris-based songwriter Kate Stables (pictured inset) - has earned the adoration of peers including Guy Garvey, The National and Sharon van Etten. In the last year This Is The Kit have performed live in session on BBC 6music and at festivals including Glastonbury.

The new album is on Rough Trade records, home to The Strokes and Jarvis Cocker; 'Moonshine Freeze' is undoubtedly their best to date, and is produced by John Parish (PJ Harvey, M Ward).

Moonshine Freeze is a beguiling mixture of musical sophistication and something more guileless - children's games, incantations and snatches of nursery rhymes.

This Is The Kit play at the Marine Theatre on Thursday, January 11th at 8pm. Tickets are £16, available to book online at www.marinetheatre.com or by calling the box office on 01297 442138.

Teddy Thompson to play at the Marine Theatre

SON OF legendary folk musicians Linda and Richard Thompson, Teddy is an acclaimed singer-songwriter with a career that has consistently attracted critical praise. His music is part folk and part pop. The New York Times calls his work "beautifully finessed." Teddy released his first, self-titled album in 2000.

In 2002, Thompson played a key role in drawing his mother out of a 17-year musical retirement to record her landmark disc Fashionably Late, which he played on and co-produced.

In 2008, Thompson released the upbeat and highly acclaimed, A Piece of What You Need, which was declared "one of this year's best" by The Guardian and debuted at #9 in the UK's pop charts. A fifth album, Bella, was released February 2011 to much acclaim and led to touring the world with Elton John among other things.

In 2014 Thompson gathered his musical clan to release Family, one of the folk records of the year which garnered a multi-page, in-depth piece from The New York Times.

This is an unusual opportunity to hear Teddy Thompson perform in a small venue.

Teddy Thompson plays at the Marine Theatre on Wednesday, January 31st at 7.30pm. Tickets are £15 in advance, or £17 on the door. Advance tickets are available by calling 01297 442138 or visit the website at www.marinetheatre.com

Marine Theatre seeking local musicians

THE Marine Theatre in Lyme Regis is looking for local musicians and DJs to perform at the theatre for its 2018 programme.

There are concerts being scheduled featuring many genres of music including classical, folk, reggae, and pop. There are opportunities for local musicians to support well-known acts. For example, the acclaimed singer Cara Dillon is performing in February, and there is a slot for a local singer-songwriter to warm-up.

The venue is also looking for bands and singers to perform their own standalone gigs in the bar and auditorium.

Gabby Rabbitts, director of the Marine Theatre, said "We would like to support local musicians wherever we can. There are a lot of talented musicians in Dorset and Devon, and we would like to see them at the theatre".

Musicians wishing to apply should email a link to live footage and a brief biography with highlights to marketing@marinetheatre.com

Winter exhibition comes to Honiton

SOUTH West Academy Academicians and Associate Academicians have joined together for the third South West Academy Exhibition at Thelma Hulbert Gallery (THG) in Honiton.

The ever-popular Winter Exhibition will feature a new body of work including paintings, sculpture, prints and ceramics.

The Academy embraces artists from right across the South West region. This year's exhibition features amongst others, the work of artists from Cornwall such as Karen McEndoo to David Brooke in Dorset and the well-known Devon artist Ray Balkwill.

Living near Truro in Cornwall, Karen McEndoo often reflects both the North and South Cornish coastlines in her work. Karen's new abstract work 'Kendijack' features in the exhibition.

David Brooke's meticulous crafted artwork 'Stealing the Seven Birds of Wisdom' reflects one of his distinctive themes often originating from mythology, but embellished by his imagination.

David commented, "Although not based on any actual story, my pictures can create the feeling of a myth or folk-tale. What I am aiming for first and foremost, is an emotional response from my audience. The story elements are a device to draw people in."

East Devon-based, Ray Balkwill's watercolours, pastels and oils are much sought after. His paintings can be found in private collections and galleries all over the country as well as abroad. In 2006 he was elected an Academician in the South West Academy and has been a member of the St. Ives Society of Artists since 1999.

He is a strong advocate of painting en plein air and his main objective is to capture the mood and 'spirit' of a place. Living as he does on the coast, it is little wonder that the wide-open spaces of sea, estuary and sky have been the main-spring of his art.

Phil Creek, Chair of the South West Academy commented: "The members of The Academy are delighted to be exhibiting at The Thelma Hulbert Gallery, a jewel in the crown of East Devon culture, again in 2018. Now established as the first, and a major highlight in our exhibition calendar each year, our artists bring together some of their best work to adorn the walls and exhibition spaces at THG."

The exhibition continues until February 24th.

Barking Mad Dogs at The Beehive

MAD DOG MCREA return to The Beehive for their annual Christmas gig - roll up for another fun-fuelled gig at The Beehive on Thursday, December 21st at 8pm

For those that don't know, Mad Dog Mcrea are an energetic folk band from Plymouth, whose music blends a mixture of folk rock, pop, gypsy jazz and bluegrass!

From self-penned songs of adventure, drinking, love and life, to traditional songs of gypsies, fairies, legless pirates and black flies - Mad Dog never fail to capture their audience with their infectious songs.

The famous purple happy bus is fired up and ready for action, and there's room for you - so jump aboard!

Be sure not to miss the splendid support act The Leylines, a West-country collective established in 2013, with a genre-defying, eclectic sound that ranges from traditional folk to full blown festival rock.

These two brilliant bands are guaranteed to give you a great Christmas kickstart!

Tickets are selling fast so make sure you book via www.beehivehoniton.co.uk or by calling 01404 384050.

Company car drivers could save almost £7,400 by going electric

NEW FIGURES from Go Ultra Low reveal that company car drivers could save around £7,376 by switching to a 100% electric car. This figure, calculated by comparing average electric and diesel models, includes a Benefit in Kind (BIK) rate saving of £3,974, in addition to an average £3,402 fuel saving over a typical three-year cycle of company car ownership.

New online cost comparison tools on www.goultralow.com provide fuel and tax cost savings for both company car drivers and private motorists. The cost calculators allow all new petrol and diesel engine cars to be compared side-by-side with every plug-in hybrid and 100% electric car from Go Ultra Low's supporting manufacturers Audi, BMW, Hyundai, Kia, Nissan, Renault, Toyota and Volkswagen.

Poppy Welch, Head of Go Ultra Low, said: "Businesses should not be put off by the upfront purchase price of electric vehicles, but should instead focus on the fantastic savings they offer over the life of the vehicle. However, we know that many questions and concerns still remain in regards to electric vehicles and their viability for business. That's why Go Ultra Low has developed a range of tools to offer businesses and drivers the information they need to choose the car that best suits their needs."

Further cost savings are available too, as Government grants provide up to £4,500 off the price of pure electric cars, £2,500 off the price of eligible plug-in hybrid cars, and up to £8,000 off the price of a new electric van. Consumers can also benefit from up to £500 off the cost of installing an electric chargepoint at their home. To make commuting in a plug-in car even more viable, businesses can also take advantage of the Workplace Charging Scheme, which provides grants of up to £300 per charging socket.

UK Pricing and specification announced for new Mercedes Benz CLS

THE MERCEDES-BENZ CLS – which was unveiled recently at the LA Auto Show – is now available to buy with prices starting from £57,510 for the CLS 350 d 4MATIC AMG Line. The CLS 400 d 4MATIC AMG Line is priced from £60,410, while the petrol-powered CLS 450 4MATIC AMG Line is available from £57,610.

The 350 d and 400 d both come with a new in-line six-cylinder diesel engine.

It produces 236 hp and 600 Nm in the 350 d and 340 hp and 700 Nm in the 400 d. The 350 d can sprint from 0 to 62 mph in 5.7 seconds, while the 400 d takes five seconds. Both have an electronically limited top speed of 155 mph. The 350 d can achieve 48.7 mpg (combined) and emits 156 g/km of CO₂. The 400 d delivers 47.9 mpg and emits 156 g/km of CO₂.

The 450 uses a new 3.0-litre in-line six-cylinder biturbo petrol engine, featuring Mercedes-Benz's innovative new EQ boost technology, consisting of a 48 volt inline starter generator. It has an output of 367 hp and 500 Nm of torque from the petrol engine, with an extra 250 Nm and 22 hp available thanks to the EQ boost system. It can travel from standstill to 62 mph in 4.8 seconds and has a top speed of 155 mph. It has a combined mpg of 36.2 and emits 184 g/km of CO₂.

AMG Line is the only trim level available, and comes with comprehensive standard equipment including 19-inch alloy wheels; parking package, including reversing camera; leather upholstery; split folding rear seats (40:20:40); 12.3-inch infotainment screen with Audio 20 multimedia screen; 12.3-inch cockpit display; ambient lighting with a choice of 64 colours; Agility Control suspension; and DAB radio.

The Premium Plus equipment line is available for an additional £3,895, and includes Keyless Go Comfort package; Memory package, including electrically adjustable front seats and steering wheel; Burmester surround system; 360° camera; Comand Online infotainment system; and electric sliding sunroof.

The Comfort package can be specified in conjunction with Premium Plus and adds Air Balance; Air Body Control air suspension; Energizing comfort control package; and black nappa leather upholstery. The Comfort package costs £2,495.

Driving Assistance Plus package is optionally available for £1,695. The package contains the latest in driving assistance technology, as recently launched in the new Mercedes-Benz S-Class. The innovative system now features route-based speed adaptation – meaning the vehicle can detect upcoming junctions and roundabouts and adjust its speed accordingly.

Revealed: The ten safest cars of the year

THATCHAM Research is today revealing the ten-car longlist for the hotly contested What Car? Safety Award 2018. As the panel of expert judges gather to decide on the year's safest car, their focus will be on emerging car safety technologies designed to prevent accidents.

This year, vehicles must have standard-fit Lane Keep Assist systems, to help avoid some of the most dangerous collision types seen on UK roads. All the top ten cars also have standard-fit Autonomous Emergency Braking systems, which operate at city and motorway speeds and can detect pedestrians. In addition, judges will give extra merit to vehicles with AEB systems that can identify cyclists and other vulnerable road users.

"The top ten safest cars of the year all have standard-fit Lane Keep Assist systems. These systems actively steer away from road edges and lane markings to prevent dangerous 'run-off road' and head-on accidents. With six per cent of A-Road crashes involving head-on collisions, this should be the next life-saving technology fitted by carmakers who want to signal their intent to prioritise driver safety," comments Matthew Avery, What Car? Safety Award panellist and director of research at Thatcham Research.

"Drivers buying a new car should expect AEB on their vehicle. It's now an essential standard-fit safety system, just like the seatbelt," says Avery. "And if the car doesn't have AEB? Walk away and find one which does." The car safety tech to watch out for

For the What Car? Safety Award judges will also examine the relative performance of differing AEB systems, and other car safety technologies such as:

Adaptive Cruise Control (ACC): As with AEB, ACC can use cameras, radar or lidar to determine the gap to the vehicle in front. Unlike normal cruise control, adaptive systems use the radar (or sometimes camera) to maintain a safe following distance, regardless of the speed set. Drivers that use ACC have been shown to have fewer collisions since it helps to condition the driver to maintain a safe distance to the car in front.

Blind Spot Indication System (BLIS): Stops drivers moving into the path of an overtaking vehicle that is hidden in the blind spot. It commonly uses radar, to sense the presence of another vehicle including motorcycles and will give a visual or audible warning - usually a light in the wing mirror or door pillar - to alert the driver. Some intervene by braking or steering back into lane. While only 3 per cent of motorway accidents involve one car pulling in front of another, at the high speeds of those roads the consequences can be disastrous.

Cyclist AEB: Vulnerable road users, including cyclists and pedestrians, account for 30 per cent of all fatalities or serious injuries across the EU each year. The smaller size and more erratic movement of cyclists compared with cars makes them harder for standard AEB systems to track. As with pedestrian AEB, cyclist detection systems use better sensors and algorithms to detect the presence of cyclists and respond to their movements. The performance of AEB systems in detecting cyclists is coming into Euro NCAP test protocols from 2018.

Driver Monitoring: Some systems can monitor and in turn warn the driver if they are distracted or have been inattentive for a prolonged period - and some which will pull the car over to the side of the road if the driver has not responded.

Rear Cross Traffic Alert: monitors an approaching vehicle from the side and warns the driver or applies the brakes to prevent them from reversing from a parking space into the path of another vehicle. 92[5] injuries occurred in 2016 as a direct result of reversing cars.

Avery continues: "The future of car safety is in the technology. A five-star Euro NCAP rating guarantees drivers a safe car. But some are still safer than others and this award is about celebrating those carmakers who continue to push the boundaries of safety, going above and beyond even the exacting levels that a five-star Euro NCAP rating demands."

The 10 safest cars of 2017

- Honda Civic
- Mercedes X-Class
- Subaru Impreza
- Subaru XV
- Toyota C-HR
- Vauxhall Insignia
- Volvo S90 / V90
- Volvo XC60
- VW Arteon

• VW T-Roc
Steve Huntingford, What Car? editor said, "It's great to see that big advances have been made in safety technology in 2017, with driver assistance systems becoming more sophisticated and even better at helping drivers to avoid a wider range of accidents. Consumers can be confident that they're buying the safest possible new car if they pick one from the top 10."

Pricing and specification announced for new Mercedes-Benz S-Class Cabriolet

PRICES for the new S-Class Cabriolet have been revealed, starting at £115,910 for the S 560 AMG Line, with the Mercedes-AMG S 63 available from £140,610 and the AMG S 65 costing £197,510.

The new S-Class Cabriolet is the epitome of luxury motoring, mixing effortless performance with impressive refinement and a sumptuous interior. A sophisticated and well-insulated multi-layer folding soft-top gives the S-Class all-round usability, and folds electrically within 20 seconds.

In line with the S-Class Coupé range, the S 560 replaces the outgoing S 500, and introduces a new 4.0-litre biturbo V8 petrol unit (codename M176) which produces 469 hp and 700 Nm of torque, and is mated to a nine-speed automatic gearbox. It has an electronically limited top speed of 155 mph, and can sprint from 0 to 62 mph in 4.6 seconds. It emits 204 g/km of CO₂, and delivers up to 31.4 mpg combined.

The AMG S 63 uses AMG's hand-built 4.0-litre twin-turbo petrol engine (codename M177), generating 612 hp and 900 Nm and powering the rear wheels via the AMG Speedshift MCT 9G-Tronic nine-speed gearbox. It emits 225 g/km of CO₂ and can achieve up to 28.8 mpg on the combined cycle. The S 65 uses a hand-built 6.0-litre V12 petrol engine which has an output of 630 hp and 1000 Nm, emitting 272 g/km of CO₂ and delivering 23.5 mpg.

Both cars are electronically limited to a top speed of 155 mph, unless specified with the optional AMG Driver's package which raises the top speed to 186 mph (S 63: £1,960; S 65: £765). The S 63 can travel from 0 to 62 mph in 4.2 seconds, while the S 65 takes just 4.1 seconds.

The S 560 – only available in AMG Line trim – comes as standard with Aircap; Airscarf; wireless phone charging; Airmatic air suspension; Comand Online, including 12.3-inch dual-bonded widescreen cockpit and infotainment display; Magic Vision Control wiper system; Intelligent Light system; Airscarf; Keyless Go Comfort package, include remote boot opening; Memory package, including electrically adjustable seats and steering wheel; ambient lighting with a choice of 64 colours; ventilated seats; Burmester surround sound system; Android Auto and Apple CarPlay; and 19-inch alloy wheels.

In addition to the standard equipment on S 560 AMG Line, the S 63 adds Seat Comfort package, including massage function; Driving Assistance package; AMG sports exhaust system; AMG sports suspension, based on Airmatic suspension; AMG sports seats finished in Nappa leather; AMG Panamericana grille; and 20-inch alloy wheels.

The S 65 comes as standard with the all-new Energizing Comfort package; Warmth Comfort package; Night View Assist Plus; Air Balance package; 360° camera; head-up display; Burmester high-end surround sound system; and Intelligent Light System with Swarovski crystals.

The Premium equipment line can be specified for £4,995 (only available on S 560), and includes Nappa leather upholstery; 360° camera; Warmth Comfort package;

Front Seat Comfort package; Air Balance package; and Energizing Comfort package.

The Driving Assistance package – standard on S 63 and S 65 – is optionally available for £2,580 (£1,695 if specified with Premium equipment line). This includes the following driving assistance systems: Active Distance Assist Distronic; Active Steering Assist; Active Speed Limit Assist; Active Braking Assist; Evasive Steering Assist; Active Blind Spot Assist; Active Lane Keeping Assist; and Pre-Safe Plus. Route-based speed adaptation is now included, which enables the vehicle to slow down for upcoming junctions, roundabouts and toll roads.

Win double for proud Popples

Seaton Town ship seven ♦ Tigers on top in Ax derby ♦ Farway warm up for Cup Final with win

Saturday, December 16th
SW Peninsula League (D1E)

GALMPTON & ROSELANDS 1

AXMINSTER TOWN 1

JAMIE Barfoot's fourth goal in six matches secured a fully deserved point for Axminster who now seventh in the table.

The hosts had the early sighters with Ax keeper Scott Wells-Burr doing well to deny Tom Dunlop in a one-on-one opportunity.

They went close again just before half time with a Dexter Allworth header that struck the crossbar.

The deadlock was broken in the 55th minute when Dunlop fired the hosts in front but the Tigers responded well and Barfoot was in the right place to poke the ball home from a corner 15 minutes from time.

Ax player-manager Jon Hurford was reasonably pleased with his side's showing, he told View Sport: "I'm happy with the point. It was probably a fair reflection of the game."

"Conditions were very heavy underfoot which proved to be a great leveller. We created some decent chances but lacked a clinical finish."

"To come away with a point is a good effort. We look forward to the Christmas fixtures and will be trying to climb up the table."

First up is Saturday's big local derby at home against Sidmouth Town (3pm).

MILLWAY RISE RES 8

AMORY GREEN RES 1

Devon & E Division Eight
 THE visitors surprised Millway with a fifth minute goal but from this point Millway took control. Sam Turner brought a great save from Amory's keeper before Stuart King equalised with a delicate lob writes Dick Sturch.

Sam Burke, making a welcome return after a long lay off through injury, then had a vicious shot well saved. King replicated his first goal to put Millway in front 2-1 after 25 minutes.

Ten minutes later Alex Rocket ran through the visitors defence to lash home the third. Tyler Allen then rattled the post as Millway continued to dominate.

Millway kept up an incessant attack on the visitors goal. Amory's keeper made two great saves in quick succession to deny both sub Dave Bridges and Burke. He was eventually beaten when a pass from Burke found Mark Pipe who swept the ball home.

The same player then provided a great cross for King to head home for his hat trick.

A Burke penalty made it 5-1 before Sam Turner gave way to Harry Thresher who took very little time to make an impression as he drilled a shot past the keeper from a King assist.

Allen eventually got on the score sheet to score the seventh and Pike rounded off the scoring with his second and Millway's eighth.

This was a game Millway dominated and in reality should have won by double figures but for some glaring misses.

Wayne Jenkins must have felt the odd man out in a solid back four containing brothers Alex, Matt and James Rocket. Sam Burke made his presence felt in midfield on his way back to full fitness.

Round-up

by Collin Goodwin

SPREYTON village has never had its own football team until this season, yet the ambitious newly-formed outfit will end 2017 as Division Seven top dogs.

An emphatic 8-0 victory at Kenn Valley United with goals from Chris Down (3), Liam Ward (2), Matt Baker, Kieran Statton and Cameron Pow goals edged Spreyton into pole position on goal difference from Sidmouth Town, whose match against Honiton was one of 29 matches postponed because of waterlogging.

Meanwhile, newly-promoted Cronies ended an amazing year on yet another winning note as they routed Premier Division's bottom side Seaton Town 7-0 at Colyford Road.

The Topsham-based team were just too strong for the Seasiders with goals coming from Jamie Vaughan-Ryall (2), Liam Carey, James Fanson, Danny Pym, Dan Gale and Mike Benyon.

However, clinical Cronies still trail leaders Elmore and second-spot Newton who were both without a match. Exwick Villa were able to finally play a first-ever game on their new 3G pitch at En-nerdale Road, although they had to battle to wrest the points away from visiting Hatherleigh Town.

The North Devon side struck first through Ryan Davey, but Mark Saunders pulled Villa level by the break and then Levin Edwardson grabbed their second-half winner in a tight 2-1 win.

Okehampton Argyle beat Feniton 4-1 in the other Premier match played. A Tallon Burns penalty and an own goal got them going eventually before two Ben Bickle strikes made it safe. Fenny grabbed their goal too late to change the outcome.

Lyme Regis had their challenge for Division One honourably dented following a 4-0 defeat at cross-boundary Somerset neighbours Perry Street where Sam Rowswell (2), Dan Collins and Steve Every scored the goals.

One other match played saw Chard Town Reserves just getting the better of Alphington 3-2 after being 2-0 down.

Bampton won at mid-table Dawlish 2-1 to stay ahead of the field in Division Two, although Woodbury remain hot on their heels after winning 3-1 at home against Bow AAC, whose Alex Bowden scored their only goal.

Theo Hill and Asa Sandman scored the Axminster United consolations in a 3-2 defeat in the derby at Axminster Town Reserves. Luis Pinto, Sam Dibling and Gary Macauley (pen) netted for the Tigers.

Newtown Poppleford were 2-1 down at home to Newton Town but recovered to win 4-2 thanks to Mark Pavey's hat trick and a single from Miroslaw Damasiewicz.

East Budleigh and Upplowman Athletic, whose Phil Greenslade, Brad Newberry and Jordan Copp netted, drew 3-3 in a hectic game.

It also finished 3-3 in the Division Three match between Clyst Valley and Sandford, while Budleigh Salterton pipped Pinhoe 3-2 in their clash with Ben Haycock (2) and Ollie Henton scoring for the Robins.

Ottery St Mary won 1-0 at home to Countess Wear Dynamos and Otterton drew 2-2 with Tedburn St Mary, Lee Mitchell getting both goals for the Otters.

Just one match survived the weather in Division Four as St Martins edged past Alphington 3-2.

In Division Five lowly Dunkeswell Rovers overcame a very good Hemyock side 3-2, prompting referee Maurice Beckenham to report that he had been "massively impressed" with the Dunks' attitude and endeavours following last week's 12-1 thumping at Exwick.

Lyme Regis Reserves convincingly beat Central 6-0 in the other game played in this division and take over top spot on goal difference. Steve Batey netted a hat-trick with Harvey Brimcombe (2) and Fred Thomson grabbing the others.

Queens Head were chopped 4-0 by Exmouth Spartans, so missing an opportunity to see the New Year in as Division Six leaders.

Upottery won 4-0 at Silverton who were denied an early goal but got over their disappointment to play their part in a brilliantly-contested encounter.

Newton Poppleford made it a double celebration for the club by winning their Division Seven match at Chagford 2-1 with goals from Ross Chatwood and James Hiscox.

Okehampton Argyle took over as Division Eight leaders after their 5-1 victory at Central; Pinhoe overcame Otterton 3-1.

The League has a threadbare schedule next Saturday and after that there are no further matches until the New Year.

Rain hits Honiton

AXE CLIFF with Peter Motson

THE Seniors played their December Medal match last Friday and the winner with a nett 68 points was Steve Gibson.

After countback Dave Weston took 2nd with 71 and Paul McGuire was 3rd also with 71. Steve Gibson, Gerry Turner, Rob Heard and John Mant all carded 2s.

The annual Albert Skinner Silver Salver competition in honour of a great stalwart of the Club was postponed and will probably be played in the New Year.

HONITON with Liz Rogers

THE weather well and truly put paid to all golf last week with the exception of the Tuesday Mixed group who found a fortunate window from the rain for the annual Bring and Win Greensomes competition.

In first place were Penny Blackburn & Mike Delaney who scored 27 points. In second place were Vera Richardson & Barry Rogers who also scored 27 but lost out on countback. Third place went to Sue Ritchie & Phil Wall with 24.

Meanwhile, 40 ladies attended the annual Christmas lunch. Guests of Honour were the Club Captain Julian Netherway and Seniors Captain Mike Sennett.

Prior to the lunch a representative of two of the charities supported by the Club this year—Dementia Alliance and Honiton Memory Cafe, gave a short presentation of the work done and also that a fund had been started to support the role of an Admiral Nurse.

The Club presented a cheque of £1000 to each charity to help in the continuation of their valuable work in the local community.

scrum down chard rugby

WITH GLYN HUGHES

What a difference a week makes!

Chard 50 Burnham 12
Western Counties (West)

HAVING suffered a hammering at Torquay a week ago, Chard bounced back with a comprehensive win against basement side Burnham and scored eight tries in the process, five of which were converted by fly half Charlie Roberts.

It took Chard a bit of time to get going and several opportunities were missed in the opening quarter with the ball either being held up over the line or being carelessly knocked-on.

However, the breakthrough came after 25 minutes when Luke Hill crossed the whitewash for a converted try.

This score visibly lifted Chard and within a short time prop Liam Mustchin had crossed for the second try and Chard were suddenly ahead 14-0.

In time added on in the first half Max Gosden, who was returning to the side after recovering from injury, scored the third try which was again successfully goaled by Roberts.

Chard made a few changes at the break and one of the replacements Tom Monaghan crashed over for the bonus point try which was again converted to make it 28-0.

The game was now totally beyond Burnham but they continued to battle and they were rewarded with an opportunist try from Ryan Beard after Chard skipper Ryan Hellier had lost the ball in the tackle.

However, his was only a temporary respite for Burnham as within minutes Chard hooker Joe Mainwaring, who has impressed in his first full season as a senior player, crossed for another try.

Captain Hellier then scored a terrific try after some lovely passing and interchanges with replacement James Twigg. The try was converted to take Chard up to the 40pt mark and it was not long before winger Ryan Wingate got on the score sheet with an unconverted try which was created by a delicate kick over the Burnham defence by Roberts. Wingate spotted the opportunity to pick up and score.

Burnham had certainly not given up and Jake Harding crossed for a converted try.

But Chard had the last word when Ross Colenso broke down the left and touched down in the corner to seal a very good win.

Chard coach Jim Wagstaff will be very pleased with and an improved performance but not the number of penalties that his team keep giving away.

The team now have a two week break and start their league programme in the new year with two trips to Devon playing at Kingsbridge on January 6th and Crediton on January 13th and Wagstaff will no doubt be looking for improved away performances.

Chard: Stead, Wingate, Hellier (capt), B.Biss, Roberts, Szydlo, Herbert, Hyslop, Mainwaring, Mustchin, Johnson, Lewis, Hill, J Wright, Gosden. Replacements (all used) Twigg, Colenso, Monaghan.

A depleted Chard 2nd xv were well beaten

78-5 by league leaders Castle Cary while the Chard 3rd xv game at Yatton was cancelled.

The traditional Crewkerne Vets v Chard Vets game will take place on Boxing day.

Chard Ladies 22 Winscombe 43

CHARD began this fixture with a squad of 25, that not only showed the great growth in the club, but also resulted in Winscombe being able to borrow players.

The game started with the home side camped in the Winscombe 22 but the away defence was very strong, and after 13 minutes a breakaway try saw the visitors take the lead, the speed of some of the Winscombe wings were to prove decisive as the match wore on.

Chard continued to dominate in the scrums, but once again struggled in the line-out.

The visitors extended their lead to 14-0 and the Chard's defense was tested to the limit, with strong tackling across the team. Winscombe finally took the option to come away with three points from a penalty in front of the posts.

But on the stroke of half time Jade Watts dived over to make the half time score 5-17.

The second half followed the same pattern as the first, early pressure from Chard ended with a Winscombe score under the posts.

Chard finally turned pressure into points, with Chelsea Bale scoring after a strong scrum to bring the score 10-24.

A period of open attacking play resulted in a series of tries by both sides due to strong running against tiring defenses. A hat trick of tries by Winscombe's flying winger Lillie Podedesz were countered by two excellent tries from Chard; Beth Kelly made a storming run through the heart of the midfield to score, and with the final move of the match a slick back move saw Sarah Kneeshaw tear through to score which was followed by a successful conversion by Georgia Adams.

The Chard player of the match was the outstanding Emma Harris.

victory

TEN members held a match at a private pond on Sunday.

It was hard going for the majority although Rob Cox made the most of favoured peg 1 to win comfortably with 42lb of mainly carp on the pole and corn.

Karl Aplin was second with 18lb 7oz from peg 2 and Bill Hopping took third with 12lb 13oz from peg 7.

Jamie Rich needed just 5oz of rudd to win the silvers pool by default from peg 6.

The club would like to thank the Hebditch family for use of their pond and also to the anglers who raised £70 for the Prader-Willi Syndrome Association.

The last match of 2017 is round seven of the IBC League on Sunday, December 31st, the draw will be at Ilminster Bowling Club between 8.30 and 9am. Names to Steve Hurford or Jamie Rich please.

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS

with Dave Mutter

THE WELLINGTON MONUMENT race has become a regular date for many runners and has now been going for 18 years.

The distance is a very precise 10,090m according to the organisers Taunton AC.

To give the event a sense of history, back in 1999 AVR's now Chairman Garry Perratt came 3rd in the impressive time of 35:51.

Team AVR turned up to the 2017 instalment of the race with seven runners willing to take on the total field of 256.

Jake Smith won the race in 33:14, one of the fastest times ever recorded.

The other AVR results: 6th Matt Clist 37:27, 11th Simon Davis, 12th Chet Gillespie (both in the same time of 38:33), 16th Duncan Staddon 39:24, 22nd Terry Emmet 40:08, 25th Matt Hewer 40:32, and Eleanor Wood was first over 60 lady finishing 72nd in 46:50.

The first four AVR's also walked away with the team prize with three of the team under 20.

AVRs Diane and Graham Newton joined with the other 250 runners for the 14th COCKINGTON CHRISTMAS CAPER a 7½ mile off-road race with a circular course.

The race was won by Thomas Pain in 50:34.

Graham managed to finish 40th, in 1:10:33, winning the first male vet over 65 prize. Diane finished 205th in 1:47:13.

Harry McMurtrie of Devon Orienteering Club was the victor in the latest SEATON PARKRUN taking 18:41 with Thomas Palmer 2nd, 19:52 and Dean Churchill of Pure Endurance Triathletes 3rd, 20:19.

AVR's took the top three female finishes: Kerry Board 1st F, 18th overall, 22:28; Holly Eyre 2nd F, 25th overall, 23:22 and Rosie Kendall 3rd F, 39th overall, 24:42.

There's a parkrun in Seaton on Christmas Day, usual 9am start - Festive outfits welcome!

Six head for South Africa

SIX Axminster cricketers are in the Devon Ladies touring party flying out to South Africa in February for the 2018 Women's Cricket Festival

Cassia Astley-Jones, Emma Seward, Maddie Hollifield, Sophie Florides, Holly Elsworth (Axminster) and Katie Donovan are in the 15-strong playing party flying out to Cape Town on February 10th for the four-team tournament.

Waiting for Devon are Western Province, Namibia and Warwickshire with two games against each in T20 and 50-over formats.

The girls are hard at work raising funds to meet the £2,000 cost of their places.

National honour for Ilminster bowls club

26-11.

In the weekend's mixed friendly Honiton gained a 63-33 triples victory over DUNKESWELL, top rink Richard Bland, Norman Baxter & Margaret Bright 26-4.

ILMINSTER with Des Maull

ILMINSTER Bowling Club has been announced as the runner up in the Bowls England Club of the Year.

The club will now receive two sets of Drakes Pride bowls, The D'Arcy Drayton Cup, a Bowls England Pennant and framed Certificate and a match against a visiting Friends of English Bowling Team.

Ilminster had revenge as they beat DEVON VICE PRESIDENTS 83-58, top rink Chris Maynard, Sam Sherwood, Pete Barradell & Steve Coles to National Competitions and also to supply coaching and advice to all members and to encourage young people to take up the sport.

Amongst the criteria for judging is the provision of an up to date web site to keep all members supplied with the latest news and information.

On Sunday Ilminster defeated visiting Bridgwate 37-30 in the Somerset & Devon Mixed League.

Details: Anthea Hall, D Fisher, P Fisher & Dave Hall 20 L Clark 10; Tony Bickle, Barbara Ball, John Mitchell & Maureen Mitchell 17 B Clark 18; Steve Peasland, Norma Pugh, Roger Lench & Dave Pugh 16 P Crompton 15.

In the National competitions Matt Hamilton is through to the 5th round in the singles and the 5th round in the pairs with Rob Paxton. The Triples team are through to the 4th round.

AXMINSTER with David Harris

THE club enjoyed a good 69-64 win in a mixed friendly at HONITON with a 26-6 win for John Davis, Mike Mellor & Margaret Crompton and a creditable 14-14 tie for Valerie Mellor, Gerald Knott & Brian Clark. The club then beat MADEIRA at home with wins for Valerie Mellor, Marion Harris, David Harris & Ann Clayton (17-14) and Reg Crouch, Mike Mellor, Ann Burn & Brian Clark (16-13).

The final mixed friendly brought a 53-43 home defeat at the hands of ILMINSTER with a 18-17 win for Ann Burn, Mike Mellor, David Harris & Brian Clark. The Ladies lost their home friendly 70-31 against the DEVON LADIES Indoor Club side, whilst the men lost their over 60s County game 91-71 against MID DEVON with the away rink of Brian Cursley, Malcolm Denslow, George Mabon & Bob Sherborne victorious 25-20.
